

THE PILOT.

Devoted to the Interests of the Unmarried—It is Not Good for Man to Be Alone."

(Not Incorporated.)

VOLUME VI.—NO. 7.

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, FEBRUARY, 1903.

SINGLE COPY 5 CENTS.

LADIES' PERSONALS

A few descriptions of ladies who are seeking gentlemen correspondents for pastime or matrimony, through the agency of the Pilot. Many claim more or less means in life, can be had, however, unless otherwise stated, etc. Full members are entitled to any or all of those addresses, without extra cost. Members of six months' standing, and those divided between two or more gentlemen. Order by number from any or all columns.

Most of our friends, when ordering addresses, send us a self-addressed, stamped envelope. This will insure that no thoughtless employee will, in sending our reply, write your name or address incorrectly, or send the letter without its being stamped. Wither fault would cause a serious delay, and while we are very careful, it is impossible for us to look after every detail.

As using my street address will facilitate delivery of mail and prevent mistakes, which might otherwise occur, I would request that you, if possible, use my full address on their mail. Address: The Pilot or John H. Harris, 285 Monticello Avenue, Chicago, Ill. I will be pleased to receive orders from any member of the Pilot, and those who are almost entirely by mail, and I cannot give personal introductions to ladies, and every day is my only day, it will be a favor to me, if an interview is not positively necessary, to receive communications by mail. The result will be the same, as less of my time will be consumed.

JOHN H. HARRIS,
285 Monticello Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

How hard a task this life would be to live if we had not that blessed consolation.

A woman has the power to give it.

In time of greatest trouble and temptation, when all the world seems dark as Egypt's night.

She comes to us, a dear, sweet guardian angel.

To give us comfort and to guide us right.

Like sunbeams in the midst of storm and sorrow.

Her smile gives warmth and cheer to weary hearts.

She lifts us to a higher plane of living.

So sweet in which her life imparts.

She is to us worth more than gold or silver.

Or all the other things the world contains;

For while these fade and lose their dazzling splendor, her love remains.

A faithful, trustful woman's love remains.

Franklin Pierce Johnson.

Photos Inserted Free.

Gentlemen who desire their photos to appear over their ads in the Pilot, will be accommodated free of charge; and if they have no cut, we will supply the portrait. Those who have no cut will be furnished one upon sending us a photo and $1.00 to pay our engraver to make the cut. This applies to members or otherwise. Gentlemen who are not entitled to free adv. as members must send one cent per word for the printed part of adv.

Caution.

Send no money to any personal advertiser for railroad fare, photos, clothes or any other purpose. Make no loans or any gift of money to any person, except in case of the most strict investigation. This paper is not designed as a medium for frauds; and if you are swindled, write us the details, and we will endeavor to see that the parties are brought to grief. Should you arrange to marry one who desires money for fare, etc., ask for references, and investigate the character of the man.

LADIES' PERSONALS

The names and addresses of any two ladies advertising under "Ladies' Personals" will be sent to any address by return mail, in a plain, sealed envelope for 25 cents; or any seven for 50 cents; or any fifteen for $1.00; or any forty for $2.00. A bunch of names may be sent to one address, and then divided between two or more gentlemen. Order by number from any or all columns.

Advertisers in the Pilot MUST not fail to answer or return all letters which contain return postage. To fail to do so is a violation of the rules of the Post Office, and the party liable for using the mails for fraudulent purposes. No chronic advertiser will, if known, be permitted the use of these columns to the detriment of parties who furnish return postage.

But it must be understood that while I do not believe such parties should be prosecuted, and will gladly give moral support, yet it is beyond my power to invoke the law against those who injure my patrons. The injured parties only can secure proof and vindication.

I especially desire it understood that I am not responsible for replies, and will not pay attention to parties who wish to discuss the subject.

JOHN H. HARRIS,
Publisher The Pilot.

LADIES OF GOOD APPEARANCE who would like to be accommodated with ready-made clothes will be accommodated at our expense if they kindly send a photo and permission to use it in the Pilot.

Hopkinton, Wash., Nov. 19, 1900.
The Pilot Publishing Company, Chicago: Gentlemen—The fifty-minute photos which I received some time ago were excellent, and I would advise anyone desiring work in that line to patronize you, as you will, I am sure, receive satisfaction. You may publish this if you choose. Sincerely yours,

E. M. WARD.

MATRIMONIAL PEARLS.

(Written expressly for The Pilot.) A truthful lover may commune With angels, less the blooms of June, Maids fairer than the blossoms of June, And sweet as sparkling springs.

"The Pilot" cites ten thousand girls, And widows many a score, All brilliant matrimonial pearls! What man can ask for more?

Give me one of this peerless throng, One wingless whippoorwill; I'll love her the tides flow wrong, And iceberg roll uphill! — The Poet Laetha.

Ladies, read every word! I sincerely want once a good Christian wife, intelligent, nice looking, dark hair preferred, no matter how young or if a few years over my age, with several thousand dollars of her own, with good means for this purpose; I have discovered a proposition which will develop thin, sickly women, make them plump, rosy and healthy, I desire to extend its sale over the country. Believe me as a Christian gentleman, I do not seek you just for your money's sake but I thought, why could I not meet a good woman, having means, I could love and deserve her just as well as one without means and we yoke our money and affections together, both getting sweetness out of life by affectionate companionship; meaning greater prosperity by using more capital in business. Truly, I am a deceiver, never was married. Trust me with your heart and I add happiness to your life by tender devotion. Trust me with your money and I'll add greater fortune to it. Am a physician, 35, slender build, height 5 ft 7, blue eyes, light hair, mustache, 5 ft 7, weight 145, occupation cowboy, have no bad habits.
